Once again I must sit and write respectfully to the Department of Justice about an injustice that AOL is doing to the Microsoft Company. At a time when Microsoft has done everything in its power to settle these law suits placed against them by those who could not compete adequately, namely AOL who has certainly demonstrated their incompetence in the Internet World. This company will not be satisfied until they make every attempt to ruin the reputation of a person who has done more for America than ever will be accomplished by other C.E.O.'s or Presidents. If they (AOL) can expend ten billion dollars and be connected to Warner Enterprises they certainly can not be in dire trouble. No, they just have to continue to use the political position because they truly can not compete with any computer source.

I respectfully request that serious consideration be given, once again, to Microsoft to end this fiasco that they have been put through. I am an ordinary citizen (senior) who is tired of the waste of these monies to the courts for no good reason at all. Mr. Case, in my opinion is not a business man and should take his stock and retire from the race. Please, for once, give Microsoft a break.

If AOL thinks they are getting shafted let me assure you that I use Microsoft and Netscape so Mr. Case isn't losing anything from many millions who use his product. And I might add that Microsoft has never turned anyone off from using their product with their own.

Very truly yours,

C. R. Rizzuto
